Once a month, we will highlight our awesome Alumni to display Seahawk students' success stories to boost and encourage our current students to go after their dreams, no matter who they are and where they are from.

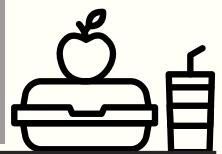

As a student at FCHS, I was in the marching band (alto saxophone), Varsity Captain Cheerleader, SGA member, Beta Club board member, National Honor Society board member, and SWAT president. In addition, I was awarded the Take Stock in Children Florida Prepaid Scholarship in the 8th grade, during my senior year of High School, I completed many college credits because I had completed most of the High School Curriculum. I initially completed 90% of Gordon Rule classes at Gulf Coast State College. After finishing most of Gordon Rules' class at Gulf Coast State College, I transferred to Bethune Cookman University because I wanted to be further away from home. At this institution, I completed a myriad of CGS courses. I transferred to Florida A&M University, which is where I received my Bachelor of Science Degree majoring in Information Technology Minor in Cybersecurity and Health Informatics. I currently work for my alma mater "Florida A&M University", as an CDR Extension Agent, Instructor/ Mentor for FAMU STEM and Business Camp U.S. Department of Education (MSEIP), and contract worker for Citrix Systems. My hard work and dedication have been recently recognized by World Who's Who publishing company. During my work career, I have been a part of many publications and leader boards. I have received a myriad of certifications in cybersecurity & other topics. In conclusion, I am currently in graduate school studying Information Assurance, Cybersecurity Health Care Security at Capella University obtaining a 3.7 GPA. I graduated from FCHS in 2013 and now an extension agent specializing in housing and entrepreneurship as well as a certified cybersecurity specialist. My favorite quote is "Find a way or make a way". Some opportunities will find you, however, some you might have to create for yourself. Always strive to do your best and never make excuses to achieve your goals.
