12.06.19 PRESS RELEASE: SUPERINTENDENT MOSES RECEIVES FADSS AWARD FOR COMPLETION OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM.

Franklin County Superintendent Traci Moses was formally recognized by the Florida Association of District School Superintendents (FADSS) along with fifteen other Florida district superintendents and two education consortium executive directors for completion of the Chief Executive Officer Leadership Development Program (CEOLDP) during the joint meeting of the FADSS & the Florida School Boards Association in Tampa this week.

"As the instructional leader of our school district, I am personally committed to professional development and growth throughout our district. Professional development and growth extends from the boardroom to the classroom. I am proud to represent Franklin County in completing the Chief Executive Officer Leadership Development Program, as well as completing the requirements for Superintendent Certification in Florida. Guiding Students Toward a Brighter Tomorrow, is the mission of the Franklin County School District, leading learning and growth for all of our students, staff, and schools."

CEOLDP is a leadership development & performance compensation program that is comparable to chief executive officer development programs for corporate executive officers. The intense program includes two phases. Phase I is a content-knowledge-skills phase which focuses on information and skill development. Phase II is a competency acquisition phase which provides a structured opportunity for participants to apply the knowledge and skills acquired in Phase I for the continuous improvement of the school district. Additionally, each participant engaged in learning projects to address the improvement needs in their school district.

FADSS CEO and Florida Senator Bill Montford stated, "The CEOLDP training is a stringent program that requires an immense time commitment and I applaud these education leaders and lifelong learners upon achieving this accomplishment."
